Kiwanis Second Invitational Swim Meet Held At City Pool

Twenty-four swim teams had responded by last Friday to the call for entries in the all-day second annual Kiwanis Invitational Swim Meet to be held at the pool on Sept. 9, and more are expected, which promises to make this Saturday a big day in Sierra Madre.

Kiwanis Club members and Sierra Madre Swim Club Boosters are girding for a full day to take care of the many events, starting at 9 a.m.

The beautiful perpetual trophy donated this year by the Kiwanis Club is no doubt a gleam in the eyes of many teams, an entries have been received from as far away as Ontario, Garden Grove and Chatsworth. The trophy will be on display inside the front entrance of the pool until meet time.

Three hundred and three individual entries had been received by Friday, according to Mrs. Charles Quickelbein, processing applications. Entries represent the following teams: Alhambra, Arcadia, Azusa, Bairbridge

(W. Covina), Bellflower, Chatsworth, Claremont, Downey, El Monte, Fullerton, Garden Grove, Glendale, Irwindale, Jack Roth Swim Club, LAAC, Long Beach, Monrovia, Montebello, Monterey Park, Ontario, Pasadena, Rosemead, Sierra Madre and Torrance.

Freestyle, breaststroke, butterfly and individual medley events in each age group will bring out the best on Saturday.

Everyone is invited to come on down to the pool to watch these boys and girls, most of whom swim on teams sponsored by their communities.

Above all, our home team deserves cheering by the whole town, for its fantastic rise in the competitive swimming field this summer.

Remember, the meet starts at 9 a.m. on Saturday at the municipal swim pool in Sierra Vista Park.

The Tax Rate . . . Budget

We are happy to see that the tax rate has been set by the City Council . . . not of course, happy that it was necessary to have a tax increase, but in many respects we do see the reason for it . . . We must keep our city on a businesslike basis, and fully recognize that emergencies do happen and sometimes very costly, and without adequate funds many times finds the taxpayers in dire want . . .

We seriously doubt the intent of the Wagner-Maddox budget and their desire to hold the line . . . It is our feeling that they did not really want to do this . . . but knowing that the rest of the council would not allow it to go through . . . made their stand and motion to take care of a "political promise" made a couple of years ago.

Of course we remember in March of 1966, candidate Wagner made the remarks that the City Council of 1965-66 had over taxed the taxpayers $100,000. That, if elected, he foresaw where this amount could be cut from the spending, and had his predictions or promises held true we would have had a tax rate last year of $1.35, but after election and budget and expenditure figuring he did sponsor a "bare bone budget" at a rate of $1.552, which seemed to cause much depression in a good many departments of City Government.

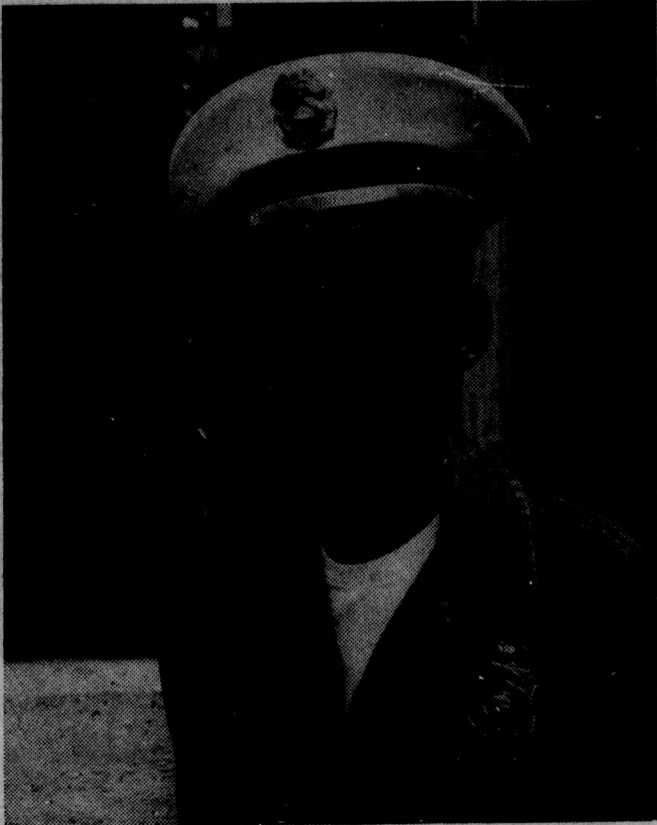

Some piece of equipment went defunct . . . we have lost a great many trees in our community, and although he states we did not overspend last year, but ended up with a surplus in the General Fund, we cannot help wonder why departments were told in June that they could not purchase "budgeted items" because the General Fund was broke . . . ask the Police Department, Fire Prevention and others.

If the full salaries had been paid for the following resigned positions, I am sure we would have overspent our budget: Larry Bevington, City Administrator; Bert Embree, Fire Marshal; Jim Bale, Chief of Police; City Engineer, in the General Fund, and Director of Parks and Recreation, in the Park and Recreation Fund. The savings in salaries, while recruiting men ran into many thousands of dollars, which if spent could run into a deficit in the 1966-67 budget. As it was around $11,000 had to be returned to the Contingency Fund.

Yes, although an increase in taxes hurts us all, and we certainly do not revel in the joy of it, we have put our city back on at least a partial "businesslike basis."

I know of a great many families on a weekly income, who enjoy all of the great things in life on Saturday and Sundays, but the entire family hates with a passion the coming of Thursday . . . they know that the cupboard will be bare waiting for dad to come home with the pay check . . . Friday night is a great night of feasting, but, oh brother, those Thursday nights.

June, July and part of August, while departments are waiting patiently for the City Fathers to bring home the "budget" they are literally starving to death, equipment in need of repairs stand idle. Needed purchases cannot be made for fear of not being allowed in the budget . . . we feel that the adopted budget and tax rate will give our employees a token amount of new equipment to work with, if carefully administered it should go until June 30; we sincerely hope that it will . . . We hope we will not have to experience another raise this next year, but at least it may not be as much, and we will be able to have good equipment in operation, and keep faith with taxpayers' services.

Tax Rate Increases 9 1/2¢ — $1.647

Administrator's Budget Passed With Supplement

The City Council met in regular adjourned session on Wednesday evening, August 30, for the sole purpose of passing the tax rate for the coming year and adopting, if possible, the budget.

All five Councilmen were present and the meeting was opened by Mayor King, who presented a well-written three page statement from Councilman Sorensen and Mayor King, after which he presented the "Supplement" to the City Administrator's Budget, which had been before the Council since last May.

The members of the Council, sometimes in part, had studied the proposed preliminary budget during some 14 separate meetings. Many of the meetings being held with department heads in an attempt to find out the priority of requests, to cut those that were not felt necessary and add to those that were felt by the Council to hold "priority."

Careful analysis of the agreed changes during the study period and the placing of priorities brought forth the "Supplement" as presented by Mayor King and Councilman Sorensen, which necessitated an increase in the tax rate of 11.5¢ per $100 assessed valuation.

The supplement allowed for a 2 cent sinking fund for the Library for the purpose of purchasing of requested additional land. When this was presented the Chairman of the Library Board asked that the 2 cents not be taken out of the tax rate, that the money should come from some other source. He further stated that the Library Board had figured the absolute necessity of running the Library which was 28¢ per $100 valuation.

Councilman Sorensen immediately amended the supplement, lowering the Library to 28¢ and the anticipated tax rate to $1.647 which was an increase over the past two years of 9 1/2 cents.

Councilman Rule, who had been on vacation for the past two weeks, arrived home Tuesday evening and spent all day Wednesday reviewing the "preliminary budget" as to the changes agreed upon during the studies, and then applying the "supplement" as presented by Sorensen-King.

A two-hour discussion was held among the five councilmen, when it became apparent to Mayor King that a "filibuster" was in evidence, he changed the rules of order and cut off the debate.

A motion by Councilman Sorensen, seconded by Councilman Rule that after consideration of the Preliminary Budget and the addition of the Supplement here presented that the tax rate for the '67-68 year be set at $1.647 cents per $100 valuation. The motion passed 3 to 2.

Following this action the tax rate and the amounts of money needed to operate the city were duly made and seconded and adopted by a vote of 3 to 2.

The motion was then made by Councilman Sorensen that the Preliminary Budget be adopted as changed and the supplement be incorporated. On roll call vote the Budget was so adopted 3 to 2.

Wagner-Maddox had presented nine different budgets which, in the opinion of Sorensen - King - Rule, were not adequate to keep the city within the wishes of the taxpayers relative to Service - Safety - Welfare and Health.

The new tax rate is an increase of 9 1/2 cents which

Injunction Stops Fund Expenditures

The Noren Eaton, Taxpayers Suit, to stop the City of Sierra Madre from expending funds for the defense of Ralph Rule, and Ralph Rule from taking assistance from the City of Sierra Madre now stands in peculiar circumstances.

Heard last Friday in Richard Wells' Court, with Robert Neher, representing Sierra Madre City Council, presenting a 36-page brief and Noren Eaton, representing the Taxpayers presenting a 3-page brief, Judge Wells took the matter under study, but later in the afternoon ruled that "Sierra Madre will not expend any money in defense of Ralph Rule."

Since this was a controversy, this ruling was expected, until such time as the entire action is brought up for trial and a decision rendered. Robert Neher early this week appealed the courts ruling to be heard in the Appellate Court at some future date.

This, of course, will set the date of the hearing with the Attorney General to a late date, awaiting the results of the trial. At the present time it has not been definitely understood as to whether the Attorney General has ever stated that he had or would hold a hearing on the matter.

Now that the matter has been entered into the courts, with a trial evidenced, it could drag out months upon months, and be very costly to all parties concerned, and although the attorneys defending Ralph Rule, up to this point have not accumulated any costs, should anyone try and present a bill for the matter to the City, it would promptly be turned down until such times as the matter is settled by trial.

Fire Call Sunday P.M.

The Sierra Madre Volunteer Fire Department was called into action Sunday evening at 10:23 to the home of J. G. Castaneda at 43 Windsor Lane.

This address was directly behind the Fire Station and Truck 423 laid its line to the scene of the fire in 2 minutes and 18 seconds, with 16 firemen and one reserve answering the call.

The fire was discovered by Don Gallagher of the California Water and Telephone Company, who was repairing a line at the time. He turned in the alarm to the Police Department. Patrolman Ed Reiley of the Sierra Madre Police Department, while awaiting the arrival of the Fire Department, rushed into the smoke filled house and led Vicky Bowers to safety and at the same time drug from the house a burning overstuffed chair.

Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Charles Brown at $25, and the cause of the fire, from all indications, was from a cigarette falling from an ashtray or the arm of the chair.

We have a very interesting letter from a new resident in the Canyon Area, we would like to publish this letter with comment, but have been unable to make contact with the person.

As close as we can come to the signature on the letter it seems to us that it is Yolanda Warner. We have checked for water meters, telephones, building permits, and the police department in an effort to secure an address.

We would like to publish this letter, but must meet with the person signing it, in order to verify certain points . . . please come forward.

It amazes us the number of people who actually close their eyes and ears to what transpires around them . . . Take the case of the Maddox-Wagner budget . . .

It is our full belief that they submitted this no-tax increase budget, knowing full well that the senior members of the Council could not pass it. There were too many left out items, too many erroneous statements made . . . But in submitting it "they felt that they kept faith with their people" . . . and could scream that they had attempted to hold the line and it was others who were spending their money.

People should listen more attentively, study and watch, this almost reminds us of a story . . . In fact it does . . .

Seems that three slightly deaf men were motoring from the north to London in an old noisy car, and hearing was indeed difficult. As they neared the city, one asked: "Is this Wembley?"

"No" replied the second, "This is Thursday." "So am I" put in the third, "Let's stop and have one." . . . Almost brings to mind the story of "Who's on first."

Anyway, common sense will tell you that normal people do not work with a budget from May to July, and then all of a sudden submit a new one, followed with another within a few days. It happened last year, again this year and most probably will happen again next year . . . makes one a little leary doesn't it?

We just cannot help but mention . . . If you are in the market to have your carpets cleaned this fall . . . A-Best Carpet Cleaners is a firm that we highly recommend. They do beautiful work and guarantee it . . .

A highly recommended company. Just give us a call at 355-3324 and we will see to it that their representative calls on you immediately. This is an unsolicited testimonial . . . They are just that good and have Sierra Madre references.

We have been receiving calls every once in the while from people who have a misconception about newspaper ownership . . . We would like to straighten it out . . . The Sierra Madre News and the Sierra Madre Tribune are two separate

For some reason I hate to see the end of summer coming. I'm loathe to acknowledge the fact that once more we must settle down into a well timed routine way of life. Up and at 'em first thing in the morning. "Rush to catch the school bus or you'll be late"; "Did you do your homework?" and all of the small pressures that press on the young people.

True, they have to face facts and this is a way of life but remember if you will when you were a child and the mixed emotions that were involving in returning to school.

If you were a little girl there was always the chore of getting some new dresses because by the end of summer you had stretched out and the belts were hitting you just about where your ribs begin. Your mother swore that your feet had grown at least two sizes and if you tried to put on your shoes you too were convinced that she was absolutely right. It meant a harried trip downtown to refurbish your wardrobe and even the interest of the new clothes couldn't compensate for all of the valuable 'kickin' can' time you were sacrificing in order to get ready for school.

The only exciting part of the whole shopping orgy was the promise of a new three drawer pencil box, complete with protractor. This was truly a thrill and took up a lot of time when you finally got back to the security of your own room, arranging and re-arranging the pencils and pens and crayolas, testing your new pen point to make sure it wasn't scratchy, putting your name and address on the identification plate to commit it for your use alone.

There was a terrible moment of decision on the book bag and you finally decided that it would be more practical to buy a whole ream of paper. Five hundred virgin sheets just waiting to be filled with the lessons that would stretch out for the next nine months till it was vacation time again.

With boys it was a little simpler. All but their good Sunday - go - to - meeting pants had long since been sacrificed to the shears and a Huckleberry Finn styling, their tennis shoes, or what was left were surely full of holes, and by the end of summer ready to be relegated to a deep burial. Most of the shopping was done sans little boy and finally when it could no longer be put off he was dragged down to the local shoe store and his feet were literally stuffed into some hard soled school shoes followed by a forcible trip to the barber shop.

When the day finally came and you went off to school the gripping stopped and there was an excitement in the air. You took your places and the roll call began. Perhaps there was a new face that appeared from nowhere and there was always speculation as to what he or she might be like.

Teacher introduced herself with a few well chosen words on what was — Please turn to Page 7 to be accomplished in the school year. Finally there was the passing out of books and the wonderful smell of the print as you carefully turned and pressed the pages in unison so the back of the books would not crack. If you were lucky you wouldn't have homework for about a week and recesses became the big break of the day with ultimate escape with the school bell. After that you somehow managed to settle down with the promise of Halloween and Thanksgiving and Christmas lurking in the not too far distant future.

So it went till one day when the school bell rang and it was no longer ringing for you, and the alarm clock did not beckon you to grab your book bag but to go off into the world to make your living. Your childhood had ended and there was no return. The years had slipped away and no longer could you look forward to long vacations and just sitting around doing nothing. You had waited so long to be your own boss and suddenly it wasn't as sweet a plum as you had expected it would be. At that point nothing could sound as sweet as the "old school bell" calling you back just one more time.

Summer came to a grinding halt last Tuesday evening for Hank Armstrong. His long-awaited trip back home and month's vacation was climaxed by a community dinner at the Dr. Robert Mueller home with some of his old and childhood friends came to say "goodbye to Hank." He had spent the month of August out here with several of the families that had known and loved him since he was a small boy. He has returned to his home with his family Mr. and Mrs. Alkman Armstrong, Jr., in Bethesda, Maryland. His return was timed so that he might be there to attend the reception and presentation of his sister Kathleen Eddy Armstrong (Kit to all of us out here) and Valeria Christian Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Chetwood Hodges. The reception will be held at the Groose Pointe Club in Grosse Pointe, Michigan.

The families gathered for the farewell were the Gene Rodes, the Charles Goldsworthy, the John Frickes, the Joe Philipsons, the James Smiths, the Ernie Maurins, and Bob Batten who came up from San Diego.

NOTICE: The Hastings Ranch Nursery School is holding an Orientation Coffee today, September 7, at 9:30 a.m., in the Fellowship Hall of the Trinity Presbyterian Church on Sierra Madre Boulevard.

This is a very special meeting as they are going to present their new director, Mrs. Virginia Bellemur. She is a graduate of Pacific Oaks in the Field of Child Development.

They will have a brief discussion on the procedures and the policies of the school, and I understand that baby sitters will be provided for the young fry so that the mothers will have a chance to chat and get acquainted. I know it's late notice but try to make it if you have a child enrolled.

The John Griffith family has justified reason to feel pride in their son, John. He has just graduated from the Army Signal School at Fort Gordon, Georgia. On his graduation he received a plaque commending him as the outstanding graduate of the class, having received the highest grades throughout.

He has been home for two and a half weeks before reporting to his assigned post with the 8th Signal Battalion in Bad Kreuznach, which is about 60 miles from Heidelberg, Germany. He is looking forward to the locale as it is not far from where the Griffith's exchange student-daughter, Karen Mueller, is attending the university. Before his departure on September 2, there was a family gathering to celebrate his twenty-second birthday and to bid him farewell.

Those included in the gathering were Dick and Kathy Evans (his sister) and their daughter Kimberly, Miss Janet York, his great-aunt, Mrs. L. J. Storey, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Evans, and Mrs. Evans was celebrating her birthday as well, and his two grandmothers, Mrs. J. G. Griffith and Mrs. James E. MacMurray.

Under Fire Alert Order

County firemen recently were officially put on alert status and all work projects were halted following a conference between County Supervisor Warren Dorn and Fire Chief Keith Klinger. Dorn, chairman of the fire department, also announced that some men and equipment had been dispatched to the Piru area of Ventura County to assist in battling of a major blaze then in progress.

The alert calls for men and equipment to be placed at various locales near or in the foothills in order to meet any fire outbreaks as soon as possible.

Dorn, pointing out that the humidity dropped to about 4 per cent in some section that morning, urged the public to avoid fire hazard areas unless "absolutely necessary."

With proper long-term planning, the autumn years of life can be free of financial worry. In fact, this can be a time for travel, for new pleasures and adventure. And the time to begin planning is today. Remember, funds placed regularly with a Federal savings and loan institution, such as ours, will over the years, mature safely and earn high dividends toward the day when you leave the pressures of the work-a-day world behind.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Ahe the HIPPIES just a passing fad? Like the live goldfish swallows or flag-pole sitters of years past? Not on your life! The fish eaters and pole sitters were, at most, weekend exhibitionists whose antics were just that — antics, not a way-of-life.

HIPPIES, on the other hand, are the cult of the Beatnik (commonly recognized as degenerates of society) whose strange and sinister lingo (are you HIP?) resulted in the name HIPPIE.

Under this less offensive sounding name, it is nonetheless the BEATNIK-HIPPIES — whose squalid living has been glorified and whose moral excesses have been pampered — who are endangering a whole generation of young people through DOPE, SEX, MUSIC and general FLAUNTING OF IRRESPONSIBILITY. HIPPIES are made, not born that way.

Fathers and mothers, business and professional men, community leaders — all had better take a firm stand against this plague that destroys the family, the business area and the community at large before the squalor and heartbreak that is Haight-Ashbury spills out over your town's avenues and alleys.

Granger Graphics has prepared a 32-minute color film strip with sound that every decent citizen and youngster should see. Titled "The Hippies," the film is available for rental to service clubs, organizations or responsible individuals: Film, tape and projector, $3 per day; tape recorder $2 extra. To reserve, phone in advance. (Projector is simple to operate. We will show you how.)

How much do you love your family, your home, your way-of-life? Shouldn't you be vitally interested in understanding events that, whether you like it or not, ARE BENT ON THEIR DESTRUCTION?

—The Staff, American Opinion Library
P.S. Other films of current interest include such topics as civil riots, campus revolution, the UN, moral foundation of money, the Supreme Court, etc.

Meeting

The San Gabriel Valley Begonia Society will meet Friday, September 8, at the Los Angeles State & County Arboretum, 301 N. Baldwin Ave., Arcadia at 8 p.m. Mr. James Girdilian of Oakhurst Gardens, Arcadia, will speak about bulbs for the garden. Slides will be shown. Guests are welcome.

YOU & YOUR NEIGHBORS

Mr. and Mrs. James Milfeld and their 13 year old daughter, Karen, enjoyed a long, 30-day vacation in British Columbia and Washington State. They went up to Prince George, B.C. and traveled around that area. They went on to Lake Kootenay and stayed at the beautiful Stellako Lodge. They have been going there for three years and just love it. Among some of their adventures they took a 20 hour ride through the inland channels on the coast of British Columbia. Because the weather wasn't up to par the water got quite rough and many of the giant ferry boat discovered they hadn't any resistance to the tossing and churning.

While on Victoria Island they met Mrs. Milfeld's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kress and their 7 year old daughter Gloria. The Kress' and the Milfelds were supposed to meet the next day in the Port of Los Angeles in Washington. The families always try to spend their vacations together. This pleasant surprise gave them a day together on the lovely island. The men enjoyed a day of deep sea fishing and Mr. Milfeld caught a huge 32-pound salmon (which was pictured on our front page about three weeks ago) and Mr. Kress caught a 22½-pound salmon and a 5-pound hump. During the nine days they spent together the two families went clam digging. It was their first time but they came home with 30 clams and had a ball getting them. Clams have to be dug up when the tide is at its ebb. So they have to get up and get to digging at 4 in the morning! That takes energy and good eyesight. Home at last, the Milfelds are awaiting the delivery of the salmon which Mr. Milfeld caught. The giant fish is being cut up and canned at the Port of Los Angeles.

The Journal of Commerce & Independent Review, a daily real estate and business newspaper with offices at 220 W. 1st St., Los Angeles, will publish a complete list of available properties. The listing showing bid requirements, legal descriptions, assessor parcel numbers and other information concerning the sale will appear serially beginning with the September 5 issue.

Information concerning the auction sale can be obtained directly from the San Bernardino tax collector's office or by contacting the newspaper at (213) 624-3111.

Bridge Tourney Sign-Up Time

It's time to sign up for the 13th annual bridge tournament sponsored by Hastings Ranch Nursery School.

A total of nine games are played beginning in October and running through May. There are three groups: ladies afternoons, ladies evenings, and couples evenings. You do not need a partner for the ladies groups nor do you have to have a child attending the nursery school.

All proceeds of this fund raising event are used to purchase equipment for the school. If interested in joining any of these groups, please call 355-1298, mornings. Deadline of registration is September 15.

Voice Classes At City College

If you like to sing, why not learn your true potential?

Attend one of the workshop sessions offered by the Continuing Education Division of Pasadena City College. Dorothea Pollak, noted teacher and European-trained concert singer, will conduct courses at both beginning and advanced levels for men and women interested in developing their ability to sing. Sessions begin the week of September 11 and are as follows:

Elementary Voice: Pasadena High School, room 106C, Monday, 7-10 p.m.
Intermediate Voice: Pasadena High School, room 106C, Tuesday, 7-10 p.m.

Voice and Solo Singing: Pasadena City College Music Building, room 102K, Thursday, 2-4:30 p.m.

Property To Go Under Tax Hammer

Over 300 parcels of San Bernardino County real estate will go on the auction block beginning at 9 a.m. on September 19.

The sale to be conducted by the office of county tax collector G. Leon Gregory, will be held at the County Agricultural Building, 566 Lugo Ave., San Bernardino, and will continue from day to day until completed.

A $10 minimum bid requirement applies to most of the parcels although several properties, especially in desirable resort areas will require an opening bid in excess of $100.

The properties scheduled to go under the auctioneer's hammer will be sold for cash to the highest bidder. Interested persons must be present in person or represented by predetermined agent, in that deeds will be issued in the name of the highest bidder.

The Journal of Commerce & Independent Review, a daily real estate and business newspaper with offices at 220 W. 1st St., Los Angeles, will publish a complete list of available properties. The listing showing bid requirements, legal descriptions, assessor parcel numbers and other information concerning the sale will appear serially beginning with the September 5 issue.

Information concerning the auction sale can be obtained directly from the San Bernardino tax collector's office or by contacting the newspaper at (213) 624-3111.

Sale Request For Civic Property

Continued study of possible sale of Civic Center property was requested recently after Supervisor Warren Dorn again declared that the "surplus lots must be sold to benefit this county's homeowners."

In commending the Special Study Committee on Sale of First Street Property, the Board of Supervisors asked for further study of the matter, with a report back to the Board by January 1.

Dorn, for years a proponent of sale of the three lots from Hope to Hill streets, described the parcels as "the most expensive parking lots in the world."

He estimated that sale of the property would "bring about $20 million to the county — or a property tax rate reduction of about 18 cents per $100 — and return the parcels to the tax roll."

"I want it clearly known now," Dorn told the Board, "that I will not support the expenditure of one dime of county funds to develop that property."

The committee said it "leans toward selling or leasing out any county property for which there is no clearly demonstrated county use within a reasonable time span," but asked for more time on the First Street parcels.

Congressman Lipscomb Speaks Of Labor Day

The following is a statement by Congressman Glen Lipscomb:

"Labor Day is one of our nation's great holidays. It is the day which symbolizes labor's coming of age. It heralds the time that labor took its rightful place in the fabric of our country. When it was first proposed that a day be set aside to honor the working men and women of America it was hard to foresee that its importance would overshadow for many of us most other days of the year.

The first Monday of September — September 4 this year — Labor Day will be celebrated for the 85th time. In those 85 years, labor has grown in strength and knowledge and position. It has acquired recognition and responsibility greater than those that exist for the laboring groups anywhere else in the world. In return, our highly trained, vigorous, and independent labor force has helped to give us position number one in the family of nations.

American labor, sometimes with tools most inadequate, was instrumental in carving our country out of the wilderness. American labor sowed the plains, laid the rails, built the ships and paved the highways that joined the original scattered settlements and cities into a single thriving nation.

Our nation's strength is based on the solid foundations built by the laboring men and women over the years — foundations which have served us so well in times of peace and prosperity and as well in times of stress. I welcome the opportunity to join in this Labor Day salute to those to whom we owe so much.

Letters To the Editor . . .

Dear Editor:

I wish to apologize for my untimely submission of my letter to you last Wednesday, whereby I also gave a copy to the Clarion. Since I was once a subscriber of yours, and received the News on Thursday covering events past midnight on Tuesday, I assumed that your composition occurred on Wednesday. This was my assumption, and the Clarion cannot be blamed for my mistake.

However, badly timed as the letter was, the criticism was honestly intended. The personal columns should be reserved for ethical personal communications, and not perverted to editorializing by either your hand or your pen.

'Substance' To Be Title of Sermon

"Substance" is the title of the lesson sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yet, I have a goodly heritage."

Doing what comes naturally? Safe driving, should come naturally to you.

Mr and Mrs. Robert Seaman Celebrate Their 25th Wedding Anniversary

Sunday afternoon, Aug. 27, was a very happy time for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Seaman. They were guests of honor at their 25th Wedding Anniversary reception held in their home at 525 W. Montecito.

Their reception was the idea and the main summer project of their four lovely daughters: Donna, Noelle, Bobbi and Darcy. The girls had a little help from their maternal grandmother, Mrs. Gladys Jackson, but all in all they were the planners and hostesses and worked for a perfectly beautiful reception.

All the girls did a fantastic job, but probably the most devoted in deeds was the youngest, Darcy. This 12-year-old little bundle of dynamite saved every penny of her allowance all summer and worked by baby-sitting the little girl next door, for 35 cents an hour.

Each girl, aside from the expense of the reception itself, put ten dollars each on the wedding anniversary money tree which was given to their parents that afternoon.

A money tree, set in a silver pot, was covered with cards and gifts of money. They were each individually tied and hanging with silver bows and ribbons. Little white bells with silver clappers also decorated the tree. Delicious refreshments added to the festivities of the afternoon. Hors d'oeuvres were served with two types of punch, raspberry and lemon punch with raspberry ice cream sherbet in it and champagne punch.

A three-tiered wedding cake, with white roses and silver leaves and pale pink trimming, was the center of attention. Atop of the cake was a beautiful 25th Wedding Anniversary ornament.

Among the 30 guests were Mrs. Robert Seaman's mother, Mrs. Gladys Jackson, and Mrs. Seaman's brother, Mr. Don Jackson. Also Dr. Peterson, who attended the wedding 25 years ago, came to honor the Seamans. Besides local friends and relatives, guests came from

Services At Faith Lutheran

Hesse, pastor, returns to the pulpit after a brief vacation and will address the congregation on the subject, "Three Responses to Work," based upon the parable of a man and his two sons as recorded in Matthew 21:28-32.

In the 9 a.m. Sunday School and Bible Department, the Adult Bible Class will hear Mr. Norman Miller, psychologist, conduct a discussion on the topic, "Pointers for Parents." Those parents who are searching

SPORTS AS Hank Ives SEES IT

SPORTS CAR SPECTACULAR HAVE YOU EVER SEEN a Lamborghini Marzal? How about a Ghibli or an Alpha Romeo Scarbo or a Chia Villalunga? These are just a few of the exotic prototype cars on display this week at the Sports Arena during the showing of the Auto Expo International.

RACING CARS also are spotlighted. George Follmer's number 16, a sleek blue Lola with which he won the road racing title in 1965, is there. So is the Ford Mark IV that Dan Gurney and A. J. Foyt drove to victory in the Le Mans 24-hour endurance run in France.

JUST ABOUT every kind of jazzy sports car is in the Arena. There are Triumph Spitfires, SAAB Sonett V-4s, all types of Porsches, Austin Healeys, British Motor Cars, Rovers, Alfa Romeos, Kony "Mini" buses, Ferraris, Fibers, and you name it.

BOB TOPAZ, the exhibition director, calls it the sports car happening. You can't dispute it. A tariff for the show is just a couple of bucks for adults and half price for kids.

title is hung on the wall. Gone are Skip Robinson, Jim Nader and Willie Campbell, not to mention Loren Shumer and Curtis Seagrove.

THE LANCERS picked up some good looking talent, however. . . Blair's Leon Braddock and Terry Kimball. Bryan O'Dorisio from St. Francis, Mary Schultz, Mike Posa and John Nounkajian from Pasadena, just to name a few.

REMEMBER MARGENE ADKINS? He's the lad who blistered the Rose Bowl turf the past two years in the JRBB games as Henderson split contests with Fullerton and Pasadena. Adkins was signed right out of Henderson by the Ottawa Roughriders and looked so good in practice sessions that the first string end for four seasons was traded away. Adkins has just signed a five-year contract based on a sliding scale. Sonofagun, I had hoped he would make it to the NFL and Pasadena could watch him again, at least in the Coliseum.

OLD HANKUS should have his head examined. He bet a cigar on the Kansas City Chiefs. Pep, got 10 points, just like the Super Bowl. After all, if he took the Chiefs and 10 against Green Bay, the Chiefs and 10 against the Rams looked like money from home.

THE RAMS played a strange game. Early in the contest they looked great. Then Pete Beathard got the K.C.s moving and by the end of the first half our local heroes looked like Pop Warner lads. Then zap, the George Allen magic worked at halftime and the Rams were world beaters.

WHAT THEY WILL DO this season pretty well depends on which half they decide to play as a regular thing.

PREDICTION DEPT. Considering that Old Hankus has had a fantastic year in the prognostication business . . . you know Pittsburgh and Baltimore to win their respective baseball races . . . it takes a lot of crust for the ancient one to even consider rendering these predictions on the poor misguided public.

However, Comma, Green Bay will win the Central Division (he probably looks good already) . . . the Rams to triumph in the Coastal (that's the kiss of death for sure) . . . Philadelphia's Eagles to upset Dallas in the Capitol Division and Cleveland to triumph as usual in the Century. Green Bay will again win the NFL title.

KANSAS CITY looks like a sure thing in the AFL Western Division with the New York Jets picked to win the Eastern. The "Super Bowl" will again pit the Packers and Chiefs and the 1967 results will be extended to 1968 as the Lombardis win by a 27-21 tally.

DON HUNT had 103 hopefuls out for practice at Pasadena, but has some huge gaps to fill before another Western States Conference

Rev. Howell Announces Sunday Topic

"Religion's Health" will be the central idea of the Rev. David G. Howell's sermon at the Sierra Madre Congregational Church on Sunday at 10 a.m. worship.

Rev. Howell will deal with the concept that it is a healthy religion that can bring health and healing to the nations of the earth in this time of rapid, rumbling change.

This Sunday is the starting date of the regular Church School program. Registration will be taken in the classrooms for nursery through junior high classes. Children are urged to come early, about 9:45 a.m., to register for the classes which will be held each Sunday during morning worship from 10 to 11.

The two youth choirs of the church will start their fall season with regular rehearsals next week.

Junior Choir this year will include boys and girls in grades 4, 5 and 6. Hi Fi Choir is offered to youngsters in grades 7, 8 and 9. First rehearsals for the choirs next week will be on Tuesday, September 12 from 3:30 to 4:15 in the afternoon for Junior Choir, and on Thursday evening, September 14, from 6:45 to 7:30 for Hi Fi Choir.

Nine Men Enlist At Pasadena U.S. Navy Station
Nine men have enlisted in the U.S. Navy at Pasadena Navy Recruiting Station during the month of August by taking the oath to serve their country.

Recruit enlistments are: Rec. Tesalonico, Pepito, S. Heimann, Larry Spencer of Altadena; Recruit Frederick Minook of Pasadena; Recruit Patrick Gaines of Monrovia; Recruit Jaime Contreras of Arcadia; Recruit Santiago Calderon of Sierra Madre; Recruit Gerald Horn of San Gabriel; Steven Velasco of Glendora.

All recruits are at Recruit Training in San Diego. They will be schooled in Seamanship, Regulations of the Navy, and started on their way to a regarding tour in the Navy.

On completion of Recruit Training, these men will be assigned to one of the Navy's schools or to a duty station or ship for on the job training.

The sports car trend has given a big boost to casual all-weather coats. They're just as popular with hunters and fishermen as they are at sports car rallies. The popular styles include shaggy-dog coats of fake fur, brushed mohair jackets lined with poplin, reversible ponchos of plaid, blanket wool, leather and suede hooded car coats, and others.

Many of these garments are made of more than one type of fabric — wool and fur blends lined with cotton, dacron or rayon. Before they can be cleaned, your cleaner must analyze the exterior and the lining fabrics for fiber content to determine which method will be safe for both.

Most of the fabrics used for sports car clothes and other casual outdoor wear have been given pre-shrinkage, water-repellency, and flame resistance treatments. These also must be taken into consideration when the article is dry cleaned.

The simple truth of the matter is that we cannot afford to take chances. We must be sure before we go ahead. This kind of extra care means that you can be sure, too, when you send your cleaning to us that every article will be thoroughly and safely cleaned by time-proven methods. Don't take chances with your good clothes.

Sierra Madre On the Air Sept. 13

Miner and Sara Harkness flew to New York on Tuesday, September 5, for a very unique and exciting reason. Miner is to be on the television program, "To Tell the Truth."

They will stay in New York until Friday. It'll take two and a half days to complete the show. Two days to brief the other two contestants on the facts about the Search and Rescue Team and half a day to tape the show. They will stay in New York another day to get a chance to see some of the city, then fly home Friday, September 8.

The producers of "To Tell the Truth" choose Miner for one of their contestants after they read a story the Associated Press had done on the Search and Rescue Team, which received nationwide coverage.

On September 13, in the afternoon, this particular sequence will be televised throughout the Los Angeles area.

Calif. Water and Telephone Property of GTC of Calif.

General Telephone Company of California announced recently that it has acquired from its parent company, General Telephone and Electronics Corporation, the properties of California Water and Telephone Company.

The history of the no longer existent California Water and Telephone Company in the local area goes back to the turn of the century when a tiny switchboard was installed in a lively stable on Myrtle Avenue in Monrovia. Since that fateful day, the telephone properties of the communities served locally, including Sierra Madre, Monrovia, Duarte and parts of Arcadia and Pasadena, have changed hands regularly.

Western Utilities, Inc., bought the rights to serve this area in 1928, and later formed California Water and Telephone Company by consolidating their Southern California based utilities into one company. In 1964, California Water and Tel., along with three other large telephone companies held by Western Utilities, was sold to General Telephone and Electronics Corporation. The acquisition by General Telephone Company of California will provide for a more economical management of the entire property.

California!

There are many qualities about the state of California which today make it of special interest to those concerned with projecting the possible trends which the future may bring in the political, economic and social development of the United States. California has small towns as well as some of the most rapidly growing metropolitan areas in the United States. It has clear desert air, and it has urban air pollution problems on a monumental scale. It has some of the most conservative political elements as well as some of the most radical, and it has everything in between. In microcosm, this one state comes close to presenting a panorama of the problems, the conditions, the growth and the progress that both plague and bless this nation.

It is for this reason that many people feel what happens in California politically may well foreshadow developments on the national scene. The hard realities of overwhelming budget deficits, disarray in ever-expanding welfare programs, painful tax increases and depreciating money may bring the voting public nationally to the point of actually challenging the feasibility of unlimited expansion of the U.S. welfare state. Governor Reagan, in his January, 1967, inaugural address, expresses his belief that in his state, "The time has come to run a check to see if all the services government provides were in answer to demands or were just goodies dreamed up for our supposed betterment."

Governor Reagan's dedication to achieving tax cuts and efficient government, to encouraging the independence and self-reliance of the individual are unquestionable. On top of this, the Governor had the overwhelming support of the people in his state. Despite this, after the dust settled following extensive budget cutting efforts, Governor Reagan's administration proposed a total state budget of $5.06 billion — up $184 million from actual spending under Governor Brown's last budget. To cover this expenditure, the largest tax increase ever proposed by any state administration was asked — $946 million.

In a comprehensive Fortune magazine article, entitled, "Ronald Reagan Faces Life," Mr. A. James Reichley discusses some significant developments: "Whatever its intent, Reagan's economy drive has collided in its first six months with a basic question for modern society: Can human will and effort halt or even slow down the momentum of expanding government services in a progressive growing state? And beyond that question lies another: Do the voters who say they want tax relief, and even vote for it, really want it at the cost of a reduction in governmental services?" Commenting on the failure of Governor Reagan's administration in this regard, Mr. Reichley states, "They were up against forces that are hard to combat, including the stalwart capacity of bureaucracies to resist reductions in their budgets."

At this point, one might well ask, what is the eventual answer — uncontrollable inflation with resultant destruction of all money values and bankruptcy of the federal and state governments, or a straightjacketed economy with rigid wage and price controls and rationing of all goods and services? There may be another way, and it depends on the intelligence of the electorate which in the nearly two centuries of our national life has managed to find a course leaving our representative form of government and free economic institutions pretty largely intact. Mr. Reichley quotes Governor Reagan as saying, "If we become convinced that an increase in services is needed, then it is our duty to persuade the people that taxes must be raised to pay for them. The one thing we must not do is to fool the people into believing that these things can be had for nothing." With this fundamental relationship clearly in mind, the people of any state or the United States would be in a position to make an informed judgment concerning the issues of public policy that will shape their lives and the political destiny of this country.

The U. S. System

The political and economic system of the United States is unique in the history of mankind. Just how this system evolved over a period of nearly two centuries and the forces that keep it a working reality in which all of us enjoy a measure of freedom and well-being never before attained is something that few people really understand.

The financial institution that perhaps more than any other single organization is responsible for keeping the financial lifeblood flowing through the economic machinery of the country has just observed its 175th Anniversary. That institution is the New York Stock Exchange. It is the instrument and the marketplace through which the voluntary investments of millions of citizens provide the capital for the industries that must spend billions of dollars every year to develop the productive capacity needed to pour out goods and services for 200 million people.

The function of the New York Stock Exchange in maintaining an orderly marketplace for the securities of corporate America has become as indispensable as a beating heart to a living being. Gone are the days when any one man or small group of men could command the resources to meet our needs. The corporation, a product of the industrial revolution, has taken their place. Today, if billions of dollars could not be secured through voluntary investment, it would have to be done through compulsion — taxation — which is incompatible with liberty under representative government. The New York Stock Exchange is where the voluntary investor and modern industry join hands. This is the U.S. system.

NEWTON, MISS., RECORD: "Basic for any stable society and healthy personality is a sound, consistent conscience with well-defined moral precepts. This is needful from infancy to old age, in small groups and large groups . . . Many people take discipline and authority as opposite to freedom and individualism. The result is confusion, loss of order and breakdown of the individual reasoning and rationale."

Could "Instant Banana Peel" stop a riot? "Instant Banana Peel" is what law enforcement officers call a chemical powder being developed by a Texas oil well service concern. Poured on a street and hosed with water, it gets slippery — real slippery. "We can flatly say this material will deny access to any specified area by looters, rioters or anyone else," says Horace Crawford, an executive of the company producing the anti-riot substance. "It's ten times worse than walking on ice."

Fanciful as this product might seem, Instant Banana Peel and an assortment of other new measures are being considered seriously by law enforcers for use in riots. Police badly need new weapons that would help them maintain order with minimum damage to persons and property. Rioting in cities across the land this summer has provided grim evidence of the need. In the future rioting could become a very slippery business.

Orders for non-lethal riot control weapons that have proved effective are pouring into manufacturers' offices. One of the most successful of the new products is Chemical Mace, composed of tear gas and other disabling chemicals that can be squirted at a rioter from an aerosol can. It produces temporary loss of vision, dizziness, pain and general apathy. The effects disappear in 20 minutes.

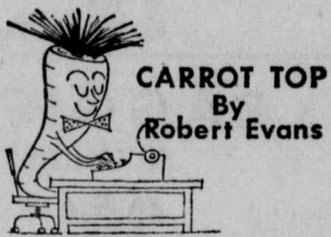

The Columbus, Ohio, police force has been equipped with the spray for a year. Chief Robert Baus says that, partly as a result, attacks on policemen have dropped 50 per cent and instances of the use of force by policemen 75 per cent.

Complaints of police brutality also have declined, he says. In Youngstown, Ohio, police using the spray have kept "small incidents from growing into big ones," says police chief John Terlesky. Tear gas in another package — a lightweight plastic nonexplosive grenade — also is being stocked by some police departments.

Currently, in the prototype stage, is a different kind of weapon called Instant Shock. It's a system for transmitting an electric charge to rioters through streams of water from a fire hose or from a portable back-pack unit. It's supposed to give a harmless but painful shock.

Law enforcers also are loading up with defensive gear to protect themselves from rioters. One new item is a tough plastic shield, three feet high and twenty inches wide, that a policeman can bear in front of his body or face in gladiator style. Several hundred such shields have recently been sold to the Pennsylvania State Police.

and distinct newspapers. The Tribune is actually owned by the Pasadena Star-News. You know who owns the Sierra Madre News . . . another reason we mention this is that we have, of late, been receiving letters objecting to articles in the Tribune, and insisting that we run a "retraction" . . . We are sorry, we have our problems too, without taking on others.

Now that the city budget has been passed, the kids are either back in school, or will be soon, maybe we can get back on a more even pace again. Of course with the new shopping center preparing to come before the Planning Commission there will be enough activity to prevent anyone from falling asleep at the switch.

In closing the column for this week we have only this little sentence to say to you "Responsible newspapers are the eyes of the 'eternal vigilance' which is the ultimate safeguard of our freedom in democratic Society." . . . I hope, I hope, I hope.

"Whenever I go to Pasadena Federal Savings, the welcome feeling starts at the front door. I know they're all busy people with a lot of accounts to serve. But they always seem to have time to give consideration to my problems. Most of them know my name, and really seem to be interested in me as a person. For instance, the other day an officer took the trouble to explain their various new savings plans — one of which pays a 5.25% dividend — and advised me which was best suited to my needs . . . at Pasadena Federal they answer your questions so courteously — the way a friend would."

We're working on the world's longest extension cord

If there's one thing we have a lot of in Southern California, it's people. Wherever there are people, there has to be electricity for them to use for the thousand and one things only electricity can do.

Southern California uses a terrific amount of electricity now. But with the way it's growing, we'll need twice as much in less than ten years.

One new source of electricity for Southern California is surplus hydro-electric power from the Pacific Northwest.

So, we're working with other California utilities and the Department of Interior to bring some of that surplus hydro-electric power into this area. We can do it because of fairly recent breakthroughs in the art of transmitting large amounts of electricity over very long distances. It's called EHV, "extra-high-voltage" transmission.

An extensive system of "EHV" transmission lines will stretch all the way from the Pacific Northwest and Canada to Southern California Edison's distribution network.

Before long, you may be playing your stereo with electricity that's travelled nearly a thousand miles. All because of EHV. Not that we want you to get excited about it. We expect you to take it pretty much for granted.

EHV is just one more way we have to provide you with a constant and plentiful supply of low-cost electricity. That's what our customers want and, as an investor-owned company, it's our business to make sure they get it.
